the Philips legacy

our beautiful building was Philips' largest warehouse. and still
closely intertwined
with the innovators
of tomorrow.

proud of this region

The year 1891, the founding of 'Philips & Co', manufacturer of affordable and reliable light bulbs. It went fast. Within the fast-growing company, more and more impressive buildings were opened in Strijp-s to become almost completely self-sufficient. From raw material to end product. From light sources to revolutionary razors, to a time of modern broadcasting. The heyday of the radio, the first televisions and their own inventions such as the cassette tape and later the CD-rom laser disc. Many of these products were stored in our beautiful building, 'the Veemgebouw' before they were shipped around the world.

Philips has left behind innovative grounds. Something is always blooming here.

Young makers, creative minds and technical innovators have turned this 'hidden city' into the creative heart of the city. STR'EAT is the place that wants to connect this area with diverse world cuisines and the trendiest bar concepts.
